FRANKFORT, KY., JANUARY 31, 1891.

Pleasureville.

Many of our citizens attended the opening sales of tobacco at the Growers House last Tuesday.

Mr. A. J. Rogers and Mr. Scott, of Waddy, Ky., arrived Tuesday in company with their daughters, who will attend the Central Normal School until its close.

J. D. Magruder, of the L. & N. Railroad, visited friends and sweethearts here last Sunday.

Mrs. Sally Black, of Franklin county, is visiting her son, G. T. Black.

Mr. Walker Scott, of Waddy, visited the Central Normal College a few days this week.

J. E. Nunn, of Simpsons ville, was in town Wednesday.

Our watchword: Farmers' Alliance. Noel Lee, of Bald Knob, passed through town last Wednesday en route for Cropper's to visit friends.

Ladies

Realize perhaps more fully than any one else the value of a clear and beautiful complexion, and they also know how difficult it is to retain freshness and beauty, when confronted by so many diseases incident to females that sap their strength and undermine their health. Science progresses. There are two remedies, when used in connection, will cure any case of female weakness of short or long standing and restore the individual to perfect health very quickly. Dr. Hale's Household Ointment used in connection with Dr. Hale's Household Tea will accomplish the desired result quicker and better than any other known remedy. Large size 50 cents; sold at South Side drug store.

P. H. CARPENTER.

THAT TERRIBLE COUGH

In the morning, hurried or difficult breathing, raising phlegm, tightness in the chest, quickened pulse, chilliness in the evening or sweats at night, all or any of these things are the first stages of consumption. Dr. Acker's English Cough Remedy will cure these fearful symptoms, and is sold under a positive guarantee by J. W. GAYLE, Druggist.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be so quickly cured by Shiloh's Cure. We guarantee it. For sale by J. W. Gayle.

Fairview.

"The cobblers wife and the blacksmith's mare, among the barest, go most bare."

Mrs. Sallie Shoush is quite ill this week.

Mrs. Annie Riner visited the family of J. W. Shoush last Tuesday.

Mr. Wm. Heatt is expecting to move to Frankfort soon. We hope he will be successful in his change of business.

Mr. Walter Smith and wife were the guests of Wm. Heatt's family last Sunday.

Mrs. Mary McQuillin lost fifteen yards of green, woolen, double width cloth between Bob Gordon's and Frankfort last week. Anyone finding such a bundle will please leave it at the ROUNDABOUT office.

A select school will commence at our school-house next Monday, February 24, 1891, conducted by the same teacher who taught the public school. The tuition is reasonable, and parents should not lose the opportunity of educating their children. "In all the realms of nature there is nothing more important than a child. Governments may pass away; the sun will pass away and the sun sink to rest, but the child enshrines a soul that is to live throughout eternity. If the child is properly cared for it will grow up worthy of its heavenly origin, but if neglected it will grow up a curse to the community and a shame to its parents."

Master John A. Heatt visited Samie Riner Tuesday.

Mr. John Shoush was in Frankfort Saturday on business.

Mr. James Powers, who has rented the George Harris farm for this year has moved, but he will live at his brother's until the 1st of March.

Born—To the wife of William Heatt, on the 16th inst., a daughter.

Mr. John Darlington, of Graefenberg, was out hunting last week and captured a black eagle, which measured seven feet three inches.

Folowing is the report of the Fairview Public School for the term ending January 22, 1891: Anna Herndon, 95; Emma Herndon, 97; Florence Herndon, 97; Clara Herndon, 95; George Thompson, 92; Susie Heatt, 95; Nellie Powers, 97; Harve Herndon, 97; James Shoush, 88; Minnie Herndon, Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 27, 1889.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

95; Sam Riner, 94; Princilla Thompson, 90; Joe Heatt, 89; Chester Herndon, 89; Oscar Shoush, 82; Johnnie Heatt, 81; Sue Powers, 80. G. D. HAMCOCK, Teacher.

We are having splendid weather now. It reminds us of spring.

The school closed here Thursday evening with music and speeches. The pupils have done a good year's work and retire to their homes to rest until next term.

Miss Minnie Herndon was the guest of Annie Riner Tuesday evening.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

The excitement caused by this great event is scarcely equalled by that produced by the great discovery of Dr. Miles—the Restorative Nervine. It speedily cures nervous prostration, change of life, pain, dullness and confusion in head, fits, sleeplessness, the blues, neuralgia, palpitation, monthly pains, etc. C. W. Snow & Co., of Syracuse, N. Y.; Talbot & Moss, of Greensburg, Ind., and A. W. Blackburn, of Wooster, O., say that "The Nervine sells better than anything we ever sold, and gives universal satisfaction." Dr. Miles' new illustrated treatise on the Nerves and Heart and trial bottle free at J. W. Gayle's drug store.

Peak's Mill.

Plenty of mud.

The Senator made a flying visit to our city Monday.

Miss Porter Winter visited Miss Lida Church this week.

Mrs. W. P. Marsh, who has been quite ill for some time, is now convalescent.

Miss Debbie Hennen spent several days with friends in Frankfort last week.

Miss Mollie Holder is lying quite ill at the home of her sister, Mrs. C. G. Hockersmith.

Mrs. H. C. Church visited her sister, Mrs. J. A. Bell, of Hatton, last week.

Mrs. Lizzie Green left Monday for Louisville, where she will reside in the future.

Rev. Roberts, of the Stamping Ground, is holding a very interesting meeting at this place.

Our Sunday-school is in a very flourishing condition and still on the increase.

Mrs. J. P. Williams, who has been visiting relatives in Bath county for the past month, returned home last Saturday.

To the regret of her many friends, Mrs. John Pierce still remains in a very critical condition.

Miss Cora Webster, of Swallowfield, and Mr. Lyman Graham, of Frankfort, were the guests of the Misses Bacon last week.

Our excellent teacher, Mr. Jones, has, in addition to his day school, a thriving commercial school.

The disappearance of Jenks from this place has been quite a mystery to its inmates, until it was ascertained that the magnet was across the creek, but things have resumed their usual course now and the white horse can be seen passing through the village daily.

"Last, but not least," is the crowning event of the season: an elegant supper and dance given at the residence of Mr. J. W. Satterwhite last Thursday night. Words are inadequate to express the hospitality dispensed to the guests by the host and hostess. All the beauty and chivalry of the country were there, including some of the brightest constellations of Frankfort and Monterey, and the light fantastic was tripped until the wee small hours of morning.

NOVICE. [Would be glad to hear from Novice often.—Ed.]

Baker's Famous Headache Specific cures where other medicines fail. It is the best one trial will convince you. Sold by Wickliffe Chapman, 314 Main street.

Do not forget to go to Mastin Bros. and get you a robe at cost. 20-2t.

Forks of Elkhorn.

Judging by his earnestness and the frequency of his visits a marriage is imminent.

Little Dan, infant son of Mr. J. H. Bowen, has recovered from his recent illness.

Miss Tillie Roberts, of Indiana, has returned home from a visit to friends in this section.

Misses Sallie Fairhead has returned to her home in Lexington from a visit to friends in this vicinity.

Miss Mattie Ely, of Lexington, is the guest of her cousin, Miss Jennie Goddard.

After a two weeks' search, we are glad to announce the fact that Mr. G. C. Hughes has found his horse.

Two excellent stoves for sale, one for cooking purposes, and the other for heating. Terms reasonable. Apply to C. H. Parent, Forks of Elkhorn, Ky.

Mr. J. H. Hockersmith and family have removed to Alabama. Success attend them.

Mr. R. C. Church had one of his fine horses killed by the cars on the K. M. a few days since.

We are informed by Mr. J. B. Stedman that another factory will occupy the place of the old one immediately, and that by the first of May it will be in perfect running order.

Mrs. Rebecca Crockett and daughters, Miss Anna Belle and Mrs. Lucetta Parent, of Bridgeport, paid us a visit the first of the week. Likewise W. H. Parent, J. W. Jenkins and C. H. Crockett.

The next session of the Franklin County Teachers' Association will be held at Sawdfield the third Saturday in February. If the teachers who are not in the habit of attending could fully realize the advantages and benefits that accrue to those who are regular in attendance, we are confident a deeper interest in educational matters would be manifested by them.

Rev. J. H. Burdin has been visiting relatives at Mt. Sterling since last report.

Mr. William Bonar left a short time since for Louisiana, where he will seek his fortune. We invoke heaven's richest blessings on his efforts.

Erle Burdin has returned home from a two weeks' visit to relatives in Mt. Sterling.

From the attendance we should judge the members of our Churches are ignorant of the fact that prayer-meeting is held Wednesday night at the Christian Church and Thursday night at the Baptist Church. We take this method, therefore, of announcing the fact that these meetings are held each week as above stated, and that a hearty welcome is extended to all who attend.

Remember the people's paper, "THE ROUNDABOUT," costs but one dollar per year. Subscriptions received by C. H. Parent. Now is the time to subscribe.

Rev. King, of the Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, conducted divine worship at Buck Run Church last Sunday.

Mr. John Trumbo and family, of Big Eddy, honored our own "Mill Hill," with their presence last Tuesday.

Mr. Richard Sobree, and Miss Cliff Thompson, were married Thursday evening, January 22d, 1891, by Rev. J. H. Burdin, at his residence.

A considerable quantity of tobacco in this section has been stripped.

On last Saturday Bethel Church extended to Bro. Burdin a unanimous call to become their pastor for another year. The call will be answered at their next regular meeting, the fourth Saturday in February.

Messrs. John Spencer, Jas. Costing, Clay Anderson and Miss Amanda Williams, all of Bath county, have been visiting friends in this community this week.

A mighty heap of readin' matter for a postcard to contain we must confess.

Mr. Frank Ely, of Lexington, has returned home from a week's visit to friends in this vicinity.

Secretary Windom Dead.

Hon. Wm. Windom, Secretary of the U. S. Treasury, died suddenly in New York City Thursday night. He had concluded a speech at the Board of Trade dinner at Delmonico's, when he suddenly turned pale, fell back in his chair and slipped to the floor a corpse. Cerebral hemorrhage was the cause.

Miss Marion Bridgford, of the South Side, entertained quite a number of her friends in honor of her birthday on Thursday night. A large number were present, and all enjoyed a pleasant evening. Chiles, Richard Chiles, Joe Toombs, Charles Pilkinton and John Cooke.

The Grand Conclave.

The annual convocation of the Grand Commandery of Kentucky, Knights Templar, will be held in this city on the 27th and 28th of May, and the general committee of Frankfort Commandery, No. 4, has already begun work mapping out a programme and making arrangements to make the annual gathering of the Sir Knights a grand success.

Wanted the Family Represented.

We understand that one of the members of the City Council, who was left all around in the distribution of city patronage, thought that, as he had no son, brother or partner eligible to the office of Street Commissioner, his colleagues owed it to him as a courtesy to elect his mother-in-law to that position. As it seems to be the policy of the present city dads to keep the offices in their families, as far as possible, the old lady should certainly have been given a chance.

Myriads of cases of rheumatism and neuralgia have already succumbed to that wonderful remedy, Salvation Oil. Price 25 cents a bottle.

"A month ago I was happy!" is the declaration of Bryan W. Procter, the poet. So were lots of other folks, who are now telling people in decided nasal tones: "Got a toad in my head." But there is still happiness to be secured; a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will cure any cough or cold.

Down on Erwin.

The following resolutions were adopted by Forks of Elkhorn Union of the F. & L. U. at their meeting on Tuesday:

Whereas, S. B. Erwin, President of the F. & L. U. of Kentucky, has condemned The Tobacco Growers Association of this State.

Resolved: That the F. & L. U. of this State, in calculating to mislead the tobacco growers and place the Farmers' and Laborers' Union of this State in a false position before the public, therefore be it Resolved: That the F. & L. U. No. 2167, of the Forks of Elkhorn, Ky., do condemn and denounce said Erwin as an ignorant and traitor, unworthy the notice of the people he represents.

3d: That we have great faith in the Tobacco Growers Warehouse, and urge all tobacco growers to patronize it.

4th: That we extend our heartfelt thanks and gratitude to said house for their timely assistance in protecting the tobacco growers of this county from the ravages of the famous warehouse combination.

5th: That we request our judiciary committee to immediately take steps to impeach said Erwin and place at our head a man worthy to represent our great cause.

Physicians Couldn't Cure Him.

BERMAMVILLE, Hamilton Co., O., June, 1898.
One bottle of Pastor Kennedy's Nerve Tonic cured me entirely. After physicians had tried it unsuccessfully for 8 months to relieve me of nervousness, I got Kennedy's Nerve Tonic.

People can Hardly Believe it.

JERSEYVILLE, Ill., May 30th, 1898.
I take pleasure to let you know that my boy is still all right; he has not had any of the spasms since about March 20th. The people can hardly believe it from the fact that he had as many as 15 a day or more. I believe he was a very nervous child all his life but did not show any signs of spasms until last December, after which they came in regular succession, and I had 8 doctors attending who could do nothing for him, nor even tell us what was the matter. I had despaired of his ever getting well, until I got Kennedy's Nerve Tonic. After taking not quite a bottle he got quite well and has had the least sign of spasms since. Respectfully yours,

MRS. E. LITTON.

I testify to the facts as above to be strictly true.

JAS. HARTY, Pastor.

Our Pamphlet for sufferers of nervous diseases will be sent free to any address, and poor patients can also obtain this medicine free of charge from us.

Among the Colored Citizens.

Sanford Jackson and Wm. Wilson had a difficulty last week, in which Wilson received a very bad wound in the face.

The Powder Horn Club will entertain next Wednesday night. Judging from the preparations being made they expect to have a grand time, as well as a large crowd.

Henry Dorris is able to appear on our streets again, which his friends will be glad to hear.

Henry Robinson is on the sick list this week.

James Venev will leave for Louisville soon, not having left Sunday as was reported.

Thomas Duncan is now the champion of the Legion.

Fifty-one members of Golden Link Lodge attended the funeral of Miss Maggie L. Taylor.

Elder Credit will remove from Louisville to this city in the near future.

Miss Maggie B. Taylor, formerly of this city but now of Louisville, visited her father and aunt this week. Her many friends gave her a hearty welcome.

Col. L. T. Clark headed a large storm party last Saturday night, and after a few songs were sung they were invited to partake of a feast fit for a king—opossum, turkeys, chickens, &c. A great time was had, which lasted until a late hour.

Dr. Hall, the belt man, was in the city this week.

A number of the ladies were entertained at lunch Sunday by friends at Highland Height.

Mr. John H. Thompson had his hand very badly sprained last week, but is now much better.

What's the matter with the H. P. Club? Mr. President, let us have a meeting soon.

The Thanksgiving sermon is the next thing on the Odd Fellow's programme. The annual sermon was prevented by the death of Miss Maggie L. Taylor. This year the members of the two lodges propose to surpass themselves. The church in which the sermon will be delivered will be handsomely decorated in Odd Fellow's designs by the lady friends of the members and no pains will be spared to add attractiveness to the scene.

The rain did not prevent a large and select crowd from attending the wedding of Miss Susie Ellis and Mr. Charley Gaines on Wednesday, from the First Independent Baptist Church. The affair was conducted in the most elegant taste, and the couple is one of the handsomest that were ever joined in Frankfort. They received many handsome presents and the best wishes of a host of friends.

Among the contestants for the position of teacher in the public school left vacant by the death of Miss Maggie L. Taylor were Messrs. Jerry Haddock, Thomas Duncan, Geo. Saffell and Miss Luella Dodson. The successful candidate is not known yet.

The Missionary Society had quite a crowd out Sunday and heard some good sermons, elected officer and adjourned to meet the third Sunday in February.

Another meeting to organize a literary society will be held at St. John's A. M. E. Church the second Friday night in February (the 13th). Teachers and all others who desire our city to take its proper place in literary circles should not fail to be present. Don't forget the date—Friday, February 13th.

A PASTOR REVIEWED.

From the large increase in the attendance, both at Sunday-school and church service, and the deep interest manifested by the public in the service as conducted by their new pastor, it will be seen that the First Independent Baptist Church, this city, is enjoying a season of prosperity, financially and spiritually, unprecedented in its history.

The history of this Church has been one of struggles, difficulties and fightings against adverse circumstances. Notwithstanding the pleasing fact it has been singularly fortunate in having none but men of ability and integrity to administer to their spiritual needs. An era of renewed energy and vigorous growth is manifestly dawning above their horizon. There seems to be a general awakening all along the line. Where hitherto there may have been a lack of energy and a disposition to do, are now seen unmistakable signs of activity and a keen desire to be up and doing.

These things gratifying as they must be to all whose hearts are in the right place, are not without their cause. As is known to most, if not all, of your readers this Church has recently called to its pastoral care Rev. W. H. Credit, Professor of Greek and teacher of Theology in the State University, Louisville, Ky. This young man, a Marylander by birth and a Pennsylvanian by education, brings to the service of this people a mind well balanced by years of careful training in one of our leading Theological Seminaries, and a heart full of Christian sympathy for all mankind. A vigorous, logical thinker; an earnest, eloquent preacher; a good organizer and a no less excellent door—these qualities combined with a life void of offense, he stands an admirable example of the possibilities of this age as well as a fitting fulfillment by many a essay to perform the functions of the holy office of spiritual leaders.

That his work here is destined to result in the accomplishment of much good is evident from what has already been done, for having had the pastoral care of this Church for a short time, he has succeeded in awakening public interest to a degree most flattering to those directly interested. Such men as he, whose full powers of intellect and heart are consecrated to the work of dissipating the gloom, ignorance and vice, and leading the hearts and heads of men with the light of morality and intelligence, should receive the support of all who are interested. If You had a Friend About to visit some section of country where malarial disease, either in the form of chills and fever or bilious remittent was particularly prevalent, what would be about the best advice you could give him? We will tell you—carry along with you a bottle of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Known throughout malarial districts, here and in other countries, as the surest means of dispelling the miasmatic forces, and robbing it of its full destructive influence. Not only does it fortify the system against the action of malarial forces, but it regularizes digestion, the liver and the bowels, and cures all the effects of over-exertion, bodily and mental exposure in rough weather, or occupation too sedentary or laborious, and of all the various nervousness. The functions of assimilation, bilious secretion and sleep have in it a most powerful and reliable auxiliary.

The Farmers Alliance Meeting.

An enthusiastic meeting of the Farmers' and Laborers' Union was held in the Court-house in the city of Frankfort on Saturday, the 24th, with 250 members present. Delegates from 16 Lodges in the county were enrolled, representing between seven and eight hundred members; a good showing for Frankfort county, being as the organization is only two months old, just in her infancy. Several members of the Con. Con. were present and rendered valuable assistance. Among the prominent one's present were Dr. Clardy and Dr. Graham, eloquent speakers were present and rendered valuable assistance.

The following preamble and resolutions were offered by Dr. Graham, delegate from Marshall and Lyon counties in the Constitutional Convention, and are now pending, and after due deliberation upon the baneful and outrageous chronic practice of members of both the Con. Con. and the General Assembly taking pay for time when they are absent and not render service. The Franklin county Union, when in session in Frankfort on January 24th, 1891, most heartily and unanimously indorsed and adopted the preamble and resolutions, and earnestly recommend that the brotherhood and all good citizens rise up and demand that the foul practice be at once stopped (taking money not earned) both in the Con. Con. and General Assembly.

W. H. PARBENT, Secretary, F. & L. U., of Franklin County.

WHEREAS, The work of this Convention has suffered in no small degree from the absence of its members; and

WHEREAS, The expense incident to the continuance of this session of the Convention, beyond the time it was expected to sit, is growing to such an extent as to make it a matter of serious moment to the State; and

WHEREAS, Each and all of the honorable delegates elected to this Convention are men who do not desire to impose any unnecessary burden upon the people; be it therefore Resolved, That the secretary of this Convention is directed to hereafter keep a daily list of the delegates names who are in actual attendance upon this Convention, and in certifying to the Auditor of the State the claims of the delegates and officers, he shall only give to members and officers of this Convention a certificate for the days of actual attendance in the Convention, provided that in case of actual sickness of a member or an officer of this Convention, or any member of his own family, being exclusively the cause of a member or officer's absence, then in such case the member or officer shall be entitled to draw his per diem during the time he was absent.

The Capital Removal.

There awaits the Constitutional Convention an important question which the newspapers have tried to fan into a flame.

At the beginning of this session some drivers of the quill tried to stir up a removal of the capital, but that movement soon spent its force as it was ascertained that few members were in favor of adopting such a measure when no public interest of the State would be served by the removal and they have failed as yet to give any plausible reason why the removal should be made. Louisville and Lexington are each striving to be the possessor of the seat of government, and all the reasons that either has given so far are local, although they have tried to 'sugar-coat' them with "best interest of the State" appearances. While they are engaged in the pleasing diversion of making faces at each other Frankfort is in the attitude of the negro on trial for stealing chickens, who told the judge he was "willing to let the matter drop."

Louisville has construed the action of the Convention in retaining in the report on revenue the clause permitting taxation by cities to raise money to defray expenses of the removal of the capital as a direct proposition to sell the capital out to the highest bidder, consequently her Commercial Club is sending forth throughout the State what they term as reasons for the location of the capital in Louisville. It is urged that Louisville has better railroad facilities that will enable our legislators and officials from all parts of the State to reach that city more easily than Frankfort. We do not concede the correctness of the proposition, but granting its truth for the sake of argument, did it ever occur to the agitators of our sister city of the Beargrass that the same railroad facilities that would carry members of the Legislature to the capital would carry them away as easily? Take as an illustration of this proposition the delegation from Louisville in the present convention and in legislative assemblies for years past. On Saturdays and Mondays several vacant seats of Louisville members may be counted in those bodies. Is this the result of lack of railroad facilities? Assuredly not, for we know that the sessions of those bodies are so arranged on those days that every member of that delegation may spend his Sundays at home with his family and never miss a roll call on any proposition pending.

If this is a fitting illustration it proves one thing clearly, and that is, if you increase the facilities of travel you increase the number of absences.

One of the eloquent orators in the Louisville mass meeting gave utterance to some curious expressions while protesting great consideration for Frankfort. He said he thought Frankfort had enjoyed the capital long enough, but it seems that "she wants the earth." The true meaning of this expression seems to be that the capital is a luxury that should be passed around to the different cities of the State every few years. Acting in the line of this suggestion it would be well for the Convention to build government buildings on wheels so that they can be trundled down to Louisville this year and to Paducah, Middlesboro or Beattyville the year following.

He also delighted in saying that no one ever came to Frankfort on pleasure, but came to this "side-tracked" town as a matter of duty. He accounted for the immoralities that some members of Legislatures have indulged in by saying that here "satan finds something still for idle hands to do," and that cards and liquor were indulged in for want of better amusement. This sounds strange, coming as it does from one who would invite our legislators into a city where the daily papers devote much space to condemning the police for "beating up the gambling dens," to his theory the humble did not intend that His "idly apply to Louisville to deliver us from evil." at Louisville possesses some things that we have not, but we can not expect all the good things. For instance: We have no stagnant pools or streams reeking with filth that will compare with its Beargrass and numerous other receptacles of water and germs of malaria and kindred diseases. We might mention other attractions of that city but will refrain and "pray for those who despicably use."

Constitutional Convention.

The Constitutional Convention is pursuing the even tenor of its way, regardless of the many intemperate expressions of disapproval that have found utterance in the newspapers of the State. Would it not be better for such ill-disposed papers to reserve their judgment or censure of the work until it has reached such a state of completion as would enable fair-minded people to view it as a whole? Any judgment expressed at present of the Constitution being formulated would be not only premature but purely the creature of imagination. Well might the makers of that instrument claim for their work the forbearance accorded to a victim who exclaimed: "Strike, but hear me!"

When the press gives play to rant rather than reason, misrepresentation and inflammatory utterances will mislead the populace, the result of which will be a strongly rooted prejudice that will blind the reason from perceiving any thing good or beneficial. If the people of the State are not in favor of adopting the new Constitution, no matter how beneficial its provisions may be to the people, it is no fault of the newspapers, for they have proclaimed in trumpet tones the iniquity of measures that have not been incorporated in the Constitution, and which never will be. The most certain method of obtaining poor work is to sit over the workman and damn him while he is in the midst of his labors. The self-constituted bosses of this Convention have spent much time in this manner instead of encouraging the laborers and suggesting methods that would shorten their task. The wisest measures that have been adopted in deliberative bodies have been the result of long conflict of opinions, which terminated in a compromise. Let us wait and hope for the best results. They are now engaged in revising the court system of the State, which comprises all courts from the Court of Appeals down to Justice's Courts. Several different systems are proposed, but after mature consideration a compromise will terminate this important matter.

Wheat-Choate.

At 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon Mr. Lester W. Wheat, of Anderson county, and Miss Lillie, only daughter of Mr. E. K. Choate, of this city, were united in marriage at Ascension Church, Rev. E. A. Penick, the rector, officiating. The church was well filled with the friends of the contracting parties and invited guests, and promptly as the fire alarm struck one the bridal party appeared in the entry. They were unattended except by Mr. W. R. Choate, brother of the bride, and Mr. J. D. Guthrie, of Louisville, who officiated as ushers. While the wedding march was being performed upon the organ by Miss Judith Drane, they proceeded up the right aisle to the altar, where the officiating minister awaited them, and the twain were made one according to the beautiful marriage ceremony of the Episcopal Church.

Leaving the church the party repaired to the residence of the bride's parents, where an elegant lunch was partaken of, after which the happy couple left on the 2:15 L. & N. train for a short bridal trip.

The bride looked lovely in a traveling dress of grey broadcloth, with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of Marshal Neil roses in her hand, while the groom was attired in a neat fitting business suit of black.

Did He Live Here?

A letter received by the Postmaster at Lexington from a gentleman at Basin, Montana, says that a man by the name of Chas. Hedges, who claimed to have come from this city or Lexington, was killed near that place while falling timber. Does any one here know him or are any of his relatives living in this county? If so a letter addressed to John Stammel, Basin, Montana, will obtain any information desired in regard to his death and the disposition of his remains.

Look out for Him.

At precisely 12 o'clock on Monday the old reliable weather prognosticator, Prof. G. Hog, will come out of his winter quarters to take observation as to the probabilities of the weather for the next six weeks.

New Tenement Houses.

Councilman Jos. T. Staten is putting up a couple of small tenement houses on his lot on Holmes street. There is a great demand for this class of houses and he will have no trouble in renting them as soon as completed.

Will Build Shortly.

Mr. Harry B. O'Donnell will, as soon as the weather permits, begin the erection of a handsome two-story frame residence upon the lot on Cross street, between Steele and Conway, recently purchased by him of Mr. J. W. Kirk.

New Paper.

The first number of the Versailles Clarion, edited and published by Mr. Frederick Henry, has been received. It is a neatly gotten up, well-printed sheet and full of interesting reading matter. We welcome it to our exchange list and wish the publisher abundant success.

Death of Rev. J. A. Henderson.

Rev. J. A. Henderson, father of Rev. H. G. Henderson, of this city, who was stricken with paralysis last week, died at his home in Lagrange at 6 o'clock Thursday morning. The remains were taken to Georgetown yesterday for interment.

Sunday Fire.

The roof of the two-story dwelling on West Cross street, owned by Mrs. Peter Jett and occupied by Mrs. Hulet, caught fire Sunday morning from a defective flue. The alarm was sounded, the fire department promptly on hand and the flames extinguished without further damage than the burning of a square or two of shingles. No insurance.

Too Many Entirely.

Twenty-seven members of the Constitutional Convention are sick at one time in Frankfort. The capital should be removed here where the whiskey is better - Bourbon news. Judging from the above Paris liquor must be a villainous one. No one here has ever heard of as many as seven of the members of the Constitutional Convention being sick at one time during the session, much less twenty-seven.

Nellie Lewis Carnation.

The latest and one of the best novelties for 1891 is an elegant Carnation, growing on long stems, a free bloomer with large flowers, of an exquisite shade of pink, something entirely different from anything in Carnation. This flower is destined to become a great favorite among the florists, as the ladies prize is very highly for corsage bouquets and decorative purposes generally. The endorsement of the old firm of James Vick, Rochester, N. Y., who introduce this plant, is enough to assure the public that it is all they claim for it. The price is only 50 cents each, three for $1.25, six for $2.25, doz. $4.00, but a better way would be to send 10 cents for Vick's Floral Guide and the 10 cents can be deducted from the first order forwarded for seeds.

That Postal Card.

As many of our readers doubt the truth of the statement in our last issue that the article on Glasgow, Virginia, then published, was written upon a postal card by Mr. D. Meade Woodson, for the benefit of these "doubting Thomases" we will say that we have the card here in the office, and if any of them have the time, considering the shortness of life, to come up and compare the card with the paper, we will furnish a strong reading glass and charge nothing for rent of chairs and space while they are so engaged.

Having counted the lines on the card, which will average sixty-three words, and the lines of the printed matter, which will average seven words, and found the number of words in each, we think we can safely say that every word found in the article published will also be found on the card.

Rumor says that a marriage will soon come off, both parties well known here, but rumor has told this tale for several years and disappointed our people so often that they now refuse to believe madam on oath, although she backs her statements with additional scraps of evidence such as recent purchases of dry goods, a suit of fine clothing and prospective purchase of lumber for building.

W. L. Collins, John Burk and John Dooley are the delegates from Pea Ridge, to the County Convention F. L. & U.

Mr. J. Graves preached here last Saturday night and Sunday morning.

Last Saturday night was a big one for our people; 6 o'clock preaching by Bro. Graves, 8 o'clock Alliance speech by Charlie Julian and 8 o'clock Farmers' Alliance meeting.

Mr. Pete Quire, of Flat Creek, who has been visiting Mr. Joel Tracy, has returned home.

Mr. W. Bridgeford, of Frankfort, and Mr. Charlie Julian, of Bridgeport, addressed our people on the 10th and 17th respectively, on Farmers' Alliance matters. Their speeches were listened to with attention by our people and the gentlemen are cordially invited to come again. It is quite refreshing to listen to these two gentlemen after hearing the mixed bark of the average politician that suits all parties. Is it a Republican community? If so give 'em slavery, war and wicked rebellion. If Democratic, give 'em rebel army, and take a whack at the tariff. When it is doubtful if any amount of jaw will prove a bad cause, give 'em a torch-light procession.

When the great sale of undelivered express goods took place at the Court-house yard last summer, quite a number of our people attended and wondered how it was possible for several wagon loads of express matter could miss the owners. One citizen here who thinks he knows something, says, "Let me tell you, it happened by Adams Express Co., to Clay City, and took a receipt from the agent at Frankfort, and went to Clay City and asked for my box. It was not there, and after calling several times and failing to get the box, I wrote to the agent at Frankfort calling his attention to the matter, and received this postal card:

ADAMS EXPRESS CO.,
FRANKFORT, KY., May 31, 1890.
Mr. Your box left here on the 10:10 train.

Agent.
After repeatedly calling at the Clay City office and writing to the Frankfort office I returned to Frankfort, after four months, but still could hear nothing of my box. Believing it lost, I was surprised at the jest on this postal:

ADAMS EXPRESS CO.,
CLAY CITY, KY., Dec. 9, 1890.
Your package is here, what shall we do with it.

Agent.
To which I replied: Sent to Frankfort.
After calling for several weeks at the Frankfort office and failing to get the box, I one day received this postal:

ADAMS EXPRESS CO.,
FRANKFORT, KY., Jan. 9, 1891.
We have received, etc., box marked etc.,

Agent.
After paying 30 cents for the company's service, very well satisfied, having a better bargain than my neighbors who attended the Express sale, for had I not got 200 miles travel and 8 months' storage for 80 cents, and the next time the box goes to Clay City I'll walk and pack it.

At the conclusion of Mr. Julian's speech last Saturday Col. Zeke Yocum's letter was read before the Farmers' Alliance, and was well received. His complimentary mention of the Alliance and the Democratic party was especially pleasing, comparing them to the gallant hearted heroes of the stirring times of '61.

Col. Yocum's military record and his well known Democratic principles endeared him to our people, every line of his writing breathes the pure undaunted spirit of Democracy. Several ex-rebels here remember when Col. Yocum served on the staff of that great Confederate leader Gen. Albert Sidney Johnston, who died in the moment of victory, while defending his native State on the battle-field of Shiloh, and the annals of military history tell how fearless he met his death.

Col. Yocum will always be a welcome visitor on Pea Ridge.

Sheriff Noel's latest literary work is not well received here. Critics find a thousand faults which ought to be overlooked in consideration of humor, dry and grim, of 2 acres, value $20, tax $5.07; 1 horse tax $21.60.

Gentle reader never quarrel with the sheriff even when brought to the scaffold, he only executes the law. If your name is not in Noel's romance you ought to be satisfied, and if it is look at the immense goodly company by which you are surrounded.

No rogue ever felt the halter draw, With good opinion of the law."
